CLASSICAL SCHOOL

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I would like to personally recommend and endorse Darin Torbert and Catapult Missions to you.

I have known Darin since he started teaching at Providence Classical School in the fall of 2009. He is a man of highest integrity. His love of God and students is very obvious as demonstrated in his classroom teaching of Spanish. He is very creative in teaching Spanish, making word games and fun conversations to help them overcome their natural reluctance to speak a foreign language. Even though he is a passionate teacher, his passion is most clearly seen in his love of the Lord. His voice rises and he becomes extremely animated when he talks about the mission opportunities in Uruguay. His love of God's people and the opportunities to save the lost of Uruguay are unmistakable.

He is not just a man of passionate words about God. He is a man of action as shown by his initiation of a short term mission trip to take high school students to Uruguay for the spring break of 2011. He developed this program from scratch and has spent countless hours planning, recruiting, presenting, and preparing for this trip.

He also has a long term vision for Uruguay and Catapult Missions. He has honed his teaching skills at Providence and will take them to Uruguay where he is starting a school in an area of great need.

In summary, I highly recommend Darin and Carolina in their passionate work for reaching people in Uruguay.

Sincerely,

Jon Weichbrodt
Headmaster
